

FROM YOUR PRESIDENT

LETTER FROM A FRIEND

I just had to write to tell you how much I love you and care for you. Yesterday, I saw you walking and laughing with your friends; I hoped that soon you'd want Me to walk along with you too. So I painted you a sunset to close your day and whispered a cool breeze to refresh you. I waited, you never called. I just kept on loving you.

I watched you fall asleep last night. I wanted so much to touch you. I spilled moonlight onto your face—trickling down your cheeks as so many tears have. You didn't even think of Me. I wanted so much to comfort you.

The next day, I exploded a brilliant sunrise into glorious morning for you. But you woke up late and rushed off to work—you didn't even notice. My sky became cloudy and My tears were the rain. I love you. Oh, if you'd only listen. I really love you. I try to say it in the quiet of the green meadow and in the blue sky. The wind whispered My Love throughout the treetops and spilled into the vibrant colors of all the flowers. I shout it to you in the thunder of the great waterfalls and compose love songs for birds to sing for you. I warm you with the clothing of My sunshine and perfume the air with nature's sweet scent. My love for you is deeper than any ocean and greater than any need in your heart. If you'd only realize how I care.

My Dad sends His Love. I want you to meet Him. He cares, too. Fathers are just that way. So, PLEASE call on Me soon. No matter how long it takes, I'll wait—BECAUSE I LOVE YOU.

Your Friend,

JESUS

In Christ,
Bro. Warren

FROM BRO. TIM:

"The older I get the faster it seems time passes." That statement I remember hearing many times through the years and I've even made the same statement. So....Why? Why does it seem that way? I can only answer from my prospective. I think it's because we get so busy and because we're busy it seems it moves faster or maybe it's because the older we get the more it just seems that way. I don't really know that you would agree with me but one things for sure when it's gone, it's gone!

Looking at the past few months there have been a few changes for us in the Harris household. Our oldest son, Stephen, has graduated from high school. He has begun a new chapter in his own life, college. He's attending Santa Fe College pursuing a degree in Forestry. My middle child is in the 11th grade and is the Drum Major. My little girl is in high school, one of the youngest because of her birthday (14). Pam and I have celebrated our 21st Anniversary in June. Last but certainly not least we will be celebrating 18 years here in High Springs this next month. So, when I say there have been a few changes, there really has been.

There have also been changes in a spiritual way. I've been meeting with several men who have had a tremendous impact in my life. These men help hold me accountable in more ways than they realize. I am so thankful that I made myself available to make a commitment to disciple these men because, in being available, I have actually been disciplined myself.

Where are you in your life? What or whom have you invested in with your time? I am so thankful that I did not say no to the Holy Spirit...Don't have time to invest in anyone or yourself? Hmm. Don't think you need to be disciplined? It really isn't about time, it's about being obedient. Paul, Timothy and Barnabus? They aren't just stories about great men of God. They are actually men who God has used to set an example to us. To teach, to learn, to lead, to encourage...God never meant for us to go through this life by ourselves. Yes His Holy Spirit is with us to lead and guide us, but all of us need someone to walk with us and to hold us accountable. The older I get the more I understand why. What about you? Do you think you are too old? NO you aren't. Hopefully God has given you wisdom through the years. He didn't give it to you for yourself. He gave it to you to pass on to others.

Lord, I pray for each Senior Adult who reads this and ask you to speak to them in whatever way you choose. May you bless each one and may you allow each one to be a blessing to those they encounter in their walk through this Life's Journey. Amen.

Blessings, Bro. Tim, Jer. 29.11
