

FROM YOUR PRESIDENT

ONLY A DAD

Only a dad with a tired face
Coming home from the daily race,
Bringing little of gold or fame,
To show how well he had played the game,
But glad in his heart that his own rejoice,
To see him home and hear his voice.

Only a dad of a brood of four,
One of ten million men or more,
Plodding along in the daily strife,
Bearing the whips and scorn of life,
With never a whimper of pain or hate,
For the sake of those who at home do wait!

Only a dad, neither rich nor proud,
Merely one of the surging crowd,
Toiling, striving, from day to day
Facing whatever may come his way,
Silent whenever the harsh condemn,
And bearing it all for the love of them!

Only a dad, but he gives his all,
To smooth the way for his children small,
Doing with courage stern and grim,
The deeds that his father did for him.

This is the line that for him I pen:
Only a dad, BUT THE BEST OF MEN!

JUNE 7TH 11 AM - 1 PM

FROM BRO. TIM:

SING A LITTLE SONG

Whether you've got the pipes of an opera singer or can't carry a tune in a bucket, singing is good for your health. Not only does it fill your body with oxygen, but it can help lower stress, improve cognitive skills and potentially battle dementia. Singing also can help you connect with others.

Belting out your favorite songs isn't an activity you have to limit to your shower or car. Instead, try some of these ways to get in harmony with others.

- Join a community or church choral group.
- Grab a mic at a karaoke bar.
- Host a karaoke party with your friends.
- Teach songs to your grandkids (or have them teach you the new Adele song).
- Go to a movie sing-a-long.
- Play music at home and sing with family or friends.
- Watch YouTube videos of favorite singers and join their performance.
- Whistle (or warble) while you work.

Blessings, Bro. Tim
